Committee Plans Establishment of Graduate School Here

Teacher's Recertification Requires Master's Degree For Advanced Standing

The report of the Graduate Committee is nearly ready to be submitted to the Deans and Directors. The following reasons why it is thought necessary to have a graduate school at this time.

"Our clientele will be drawn from the following groups. First, we will have returning veterans who have graduated from Clemson or some other college. Second, returning veterans who have passed most of the work of their senior year. Third, teachers who wish to improve their professional standing. The Recertification Committee has recently set up standards that require the Master's degree for advanced professional standing. From such teacher groups we would probably get teachers of agricultural education, industrial education, library science, health and physical education, business education and perhaps a few advisory and elementary teachers. Related to these groups would be specialists, county agents and other workers in agriculture and industry. Fourth, there would be a small group of our own graduates who prefer to take graduate work at Clemson rather than at another institution."

The Committee set up rules governing the work of the graduate school but as these are very similar to those offered at any Land Grant College there is no need to list them.

The Committee will recommend that any major line of work now offering candidates for a B. S. degree should be in a position now or at some later time to offer graduate work. If it seems desirable for a department not now giving a major to establish one, undergraduate work should first be strengthened before graduate work is attempted.

The Committee felt that there are three dangers that should be guarded against in making the graduate school a success. There should be a very careful selection of candidates, a wise selection of graduate teachers should be made and that a correct procedure be set up and adhered to and finally and the most difficult, high standards should be maintained in every school and department offering graduate work.

Lt. Mack H. Alman Wins Silver Star

First Lieut. Mack H. Alman, Dairying '42, of Spartanburg, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in Germany.

His citation reads in part: "During a fast moving attack, Lt. Alman consistently remained at the head of his platoon. Entering many buildings while he signaled his men to stay under cover, he took a great number of prisoners and captured many enemy weapons before they could be destroyed. His indomitable courage and unflinching devotion to duty reflects highest credit upon himself and the military service."

While at Clemson Lt. Alman was a member of the "Taps" staff and the Dairy Club.

Grady Wise Dies While German PW

Sgt. Grady L. Wise, Voc. Ag. Ed., '43, has been reported to have died in a German prison camp on March 10th. Sgt. Wise was serving with the 42nd regiment of the 106th Infantry when he was taken prisoner on December 16, 1944.

He is the son or Mrs. G. L. Wise, of Newberry, who has now given two of her sons in the battle for freedom.

Lt. Epting Given Oak Leaf Cluster

First Lieut. Carl C. Epting, Arch. '42, of Greenville, has been awarded the Silver Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal for "meritorious achievement on many combat missions in Germany and enemy occupied Europe."

Flying as a pilot of a B-24 Liberator of the 467th Bomb Group, Lt. Epting has participated in thirty-five bombing missions to enemy targets.

German Bayonet Sent In Memory Of Lt. Ford

Major John T. Ford, Ag. Ec., '42, of Baltimore, Md., has recently sent as a memorial to his son, John T. Ford, IV, who was killed in Germany February 26, 1945, a German bayonet and sheaf. This bayonet was captured from a German soldier by Lt. Ford, and it is being placed in the relic room in the College Library where the other souvenirs from overseas are kept.

John M. Barnes

Pictured above is John M. Barnes, who has recently been elected to Phi Kappa Phi, national fraternity for seniors. He is an electrical engineering major from Rock Hill.

The requirements for this organization are, 1. An average grade-point ratio of at least 6.5 on all previous work. 2. Leadership ability. 3. High character. Barnes has a ratio of 7.18.

He also is a member of Tau Beta Pi, AIEE, Senior Council, and Clemson Flying Club.

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES to be awarded at the commencement exercises to be held Sunday, May 20, at 6 o'clock p. m. are shown above.

They are (from l. to r.) M. R. Tilson, ME, from Savannah, Ga.; A. T. Adams, TE, from Rock Hill; S. W. Hogue, Ind. Ed., from Camden; J. B. Rogers, ME, from Anderson; G. M. Goodale, Chem. and Chem. Eng., from Clemson; H. N. Lindsay, TE, from Clemson;

J. E. Beatty, Chem., from Baltimore, Md.; R. M. Young, Hort., from Clinton; A. H. Maybin, Ag. Ed., from Whitmire; C. G. Culter, Gen. Sc., from Orangeburg; A. C. Odom, Voc. Ag. Ed., from Gable.

Candidates not appearing in the picture are M. M. Sawyer, Voc. Ag. Ed., from North, and W. H. Washington, Jr., of Clemson, who is a Navy V-12 student at Ga. Tech., and who has transferred his credits to Clemson.

NEW CADET COLONEL

It was announced to the TIGER yesterday by the Commandant that the cadet Colonel for the summer session will be G. J. Ballenger, of Tuckahoe. Other appointments have not been released as yet.

R. C. Forrester Becomes Major

Major Richard C. Forrester, T. E., '40, of Sumter, has been promoted from the rank of captain to his present rank.

Major Forrester has been overseas for over a year and a half, and in addition to the current liberation of Luzon, he is a veteran of the Northern Solomons and the Bismark Archipelago campaign. He holds the Bronze Star for meritorious service in the latter.

While at Clemson he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Phi, and the Freshman Drill Platoon.

William Huntley Now Radioman On Bomber

William Bryan Huntley, Chem. Eng., '41-'42, of Darlington, has been advanced to aviation radioman, third class, USNR. He is now attached to a patrol bomber squadron of the Atlantic Fleet. Since his enlistment in the Navy in 1943, he has seen service in six naval establishments up and down the South Atlantic Coast.

He has assisted the "Y" with the evening watch programs, and is now a member of the recently organized Clemson Community Quartet. Other members of the quartet are Dr. W. T. Ferrier, Mr. W. H. Purser, and Dr. I. A. Spalding, and Mrs. Helton is the accompanist.

Sgt. Helton has built a home here, but Mrs. Helton is to go to live with her mother in Franklin, N. C., for the present.

"I have enjoyed my assignment here more than any other place I have been stationed since I have been in the army. One of my greatest desires is to return to Clemson after the war," Sgt. Helton said.

T/Sgt. Cannon has been in the army twenty years and has been at Clemson since February, 1940, coming here from Auburn, where he had a similar assignment. His wife and four children will continue to live at Clemson while he is gone.

"I'll have to flip to see whether I want to go back to Auburn or return to Clemson after the war," he was heard to say.

Sgts. Helton And Cannon Awaiting Orders To Leave

M/Sgt. K. R. Helton, Sergeant Major, and T/Sgt. G. Cannon, quartermaster, of the Commandant's staff here have been notified by the Commanding General of the Fourth Service Command that they are to be reassigned for overseas duty, and are now awaiting their orders.

M/Sgt. Helton, who has been in the army for 21 years, has been at Clemson since March 6, 1936. He has been very active in the civic affairs of the campus, being a member of the Clemson Baptist Church, President of Dr. C. H. Aull's Bible Class there, a member of the Lions Club at Pendleton, and an honorary member of Scabbard and Blade. He also has been president of the Theater Club for three years and has many times helped with Christmas music, special music for other occasions, Christmas pageants, directing the Christmas Pageant in 1942.

He has assisted the "Y" with the evening watch programs, and is now a member of the recently organized Clemson Community Quartet. Other members of the quartet are Dr. W. T. Ferrier, Mr. W. H. Purser, and Dr. I. A. Spalding, and Mrs. Helton is the accompanist.

Sgt. Helton has built a home here, but Mrs. Helton is to go to live with her mother in Franklin, N. C., for the present.

S-Sgt. Fendley Gets Silver Star Posthumously

Friday afternoon, May 18, at 6 p. m., the Silver Star medal will be awarded posthumously to Staff Sergeant Frank K. Fendley, United States Army, of Clemson. Mrs. Minnie B. Fendley, mother of Sgt. Fendley, will be presented the award on Bowman Field by Col. W. A. Cunningham, Commandant of Clemson, following a special parade by the cadet corps.

The medal is presented to Sgt. Fendley for "gallantry in action on Jan. 30, 1944, in the vicinity of Cassino, Italy. His leadership and courage while under fire was outstanding and an inspiration to his fellow comrades."

Sgt. Fendley was killed in action on September 18, 1944, in Italy, after having fought in Africa, Sicily, and in the battles for Rome, Leghorn, and Pisa. Stories of his heroic action during these battles have frequently appeared in newspapers.

Ship Named For Colonel Ziegler

The memory of the late Col. Frances M. Ziegler, M. E., '23, of Denmark, who died as the result of injuries in the crash of his plane at Warner Robbins Field, Ga., in December, 1942, has been honored by the naming of an AAF auxiliary aircraft repair ship for him.

While at Clemson, Col. Ziegler was an outstanding athlete as well as a popular student, being president of the student body his senior year. He entered the air corps two years after his graduation and received his wings at Kelly Field, Texas, in 1927.

The colonel, at the time of his fatal crash, was executive officer of Warner Robbins Field. Since his death he has been honored at Warner Robbins by the naming of the post athletic field and a street in the officers quarters of the field.

Clemson Again Rated Excellent

As it has usually happened in the past, it has been officially announced that Clemson College was rated excellent in the recent Spring Inspection.

From 85 to 100 is rated excellent, and Clemson scored 92.4. As the cadet corps is now so small, and as most of the cadets are new ones, the Military Department feels that this is an unusually good record.

Lt. James Young Wins Silver Star

Lieut. James G. Young, Pre. Med., '42, of Florence, of the Infantry has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in France in September, 1944.

Lt. Young, commanding a reconnaissance force, showed "great skill in utilizing three medium tanks and deploying his platoon so that he was able to overcome strong enemy resistance and accomplishing the mission of determining the strength of the enemy," according to his citation.

While he was a member of the Clemson Cadet Corps he took part in many organizational activities. Among them are the Blue Key, Scabbard and Blade, Tiger Brotherhood, Honor Military Graduate and the Pershing Rifle.

CLEMSON HOLDS V-E SERVICES

"Today the Son of righteousness has risen and broken through and the dark clouds are scudding away. We feel that God is in his heaven and that soon all will be right with the world."

Dr. D. W. Daniel spoke these words to a congregation of over 1000 people gathered in the Clemson College Chapel the morning of May 8 for a special service of prayer and thanksgiving in observance of V-E day. The Alma Mater of more than 5000 men in all branches of America's Armed services in all theaters of war, Clemson quietly

Dr. G. D. Grice To Address Graduates; Mothers To Be Honored By Cadet Corps

A combination Commencement-Visitors Day program will be presented at Clemson College Sunday, May 20, in honor of the mothers of Clemson cadets.

The day's activities will open with regular services in the five campus churches at 11:30, and close with 7:30 Vesper services at the YMCA. Throughout the day college buildings and barracks will be open for inspection by visitors.

Afternoon activity on Clemson's parade grounds will begin at 2:30 with a demonstration in company calisthenics, followed by a fancy drill exhibition by the Clemson platoon. The special parade in honor of the mothers of Clemson cadets is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock.

During the parade the R. W. Simpson medal will be presented to the best drilled cadet of the three lower classes; the Andrew Pickens award presented by the South Carolina DAR to the cadet showing the greatest degree qualities of leadership, military proficiency, and soldierly deportment; and military awards to Clemson's best drilled platoon sergeant, corporal, and private.

Col. Lytle Has Excellent Record

Lieut. Col. Cleveland A. Lytle, G. S., '34, of Fort Mill, has amassed an outstanding record as a soldier since first entering combat shortly after the invasion of France last summer. He is now serving with Gen. Patton's Third Army somewhere in Germany as commanding officer of the Second Battalion, 92nd division.

Among the decorations which have been awarded to him are the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star with a cluster, the Croix de Guerre, the Bronze Star, two Presidential citations, a Purple Heart, and the special commendation from Gen. Patton awarded to his battalion.

Col. Lytle entered the service in September, 1940, with the Fort Mill Company of the National Guard. While at Clemson he was a member of the Blue Key and the Scabbard and Blade.

OSCAR!

Gordon Goodale, son of Prof. "Big Ben," is your man, mates, and he has had a hard job trying to keep his identity a secret. What he has written was all in fun. Don't be too hard on him!

Col. C. F. Gee Wins Bronze Star

Colonel Clough F. Gee, '15, of Watertown, N. Y., commanding officer southern district of the United Kingdom Base, has been awarded the Bronze Star at a recent ceremony held in England.

While at Clemson, he was a member of the football team.

Commencement exercises for 12 Clemson students and one former student who has completed college work while a naval V-12 student at Georgia Tech will be held in the Outdoor Theater at 6 o'clock. The combination baccalaureate sermon and commencement address will be delivered by Pres. George David Grice of the College of Charleston. Mr. Grice is a 1923 graduate of Clemson. He received a degree in General Science.

Rev. A. W. Skardon, of Walterboro, was to have delivered the address, but because of serious illness it is impossible for him to speak.

The following Clemson seniors are candidates for graduation: A. T. Adams, J. E. Beatty, C. G. Culter, G. M. Goodale, S. W. Hogue, H. N. Lindsay, A. H. Maybin, J. B. Rogers, M. M. Sawyer, M. R. Tilson, R. H. Young, and W. H. Washington, Jr.

Allen Thomas Adams, from Rock Hill, is a candidate for B. S. degree in Textile Engineering. He has held the rank of Private, Corporal, Sergeant, and Lt. Col. He belonged to Alpha Phi Omega, 3, 4; member of the Senior Council, 4; Secretary-Treasurer Senior Class, 4; member of the Tiger Staff, 4; Honors, 4; Bobbin and Beaker, 3, 4; Circulation Manager, 4; York County Club, 2, 3, 4; President, 4; Veterans Club, 4; Marksman, A. F. R. T. C. Fort Knox, Ky., U. S. Army.

John Edgar Beatty, from Baltimore, Maryland, is a candidate for B. S. in Chemistry. He held the rank of Private, Sergeant, Captain. He was Vice President of the Blue Key; Business Manager of the Central Dance Association, 4; a member of the Tiger Staff, 4; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 4; President of Lutheran Student Association, 4; American Chem-

JOE LITTLEJOHN TO FURNISH MUSIC FOR FINALS

The Central Dance Association has announced that Joe Littlejohn and his orchestra will play for the Finals to be held here Saturday night, May 19th. This orchestra has played for a number of college dances in the southern states for the past few years. Joe will offer music appealing to all.

Finals will be semi-formal. Cadets of Clemson will be required to wear the prescribed khaki uniform and the girls will dress formal.

Tickets are on sale by the CDA members and all cadets are urged to get their tickets now and avoid the rush Saturday night.

Graduating Seniors and their dates will be guests of honor for the dance and the dates of the Senior CDA members will be the sponsors. The sponsors are as follows: for President M. R. Tilson, Miss Martha Mitchell, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; for Floor Chairman Bill McElreath, Miss Betty Hightower, of Gainesville, Ga.; for Decorating Chairman O. B. Riley, Miss Mary Louise Parler, of Limestone College.

The girls will stay in the Physics Building in the hospital annex. Cadets having dates for the dance, and want to keep them here are urged to notify G. M. Goodale, placing chairman.

Besides the dance, The Jr.-Sr. Banquet, Mother's Day Parade, "Open Barracks", and graduation exercises will give the weekend thrills and fun that will live long in the hearts of all.

Martin Tilson, president of the CDA has asked that there be no corsages for the dance. In doing this he hopes to lower the cost of the dance weekend to a minimum so that as many cadets as possible may have dates for the weekend.

Post War Clemson —

As the European war activities reach a semblance of completion our thoughts turn toward the return to this country of many former Clemson men and others who may wish to study at Clemson. Many of our former students, mostly officers, fought in all of the major campaigns of Europe and, according to statements to the press, will not go to the Pacific.

We are faced with the task of re-assembling the Clemson faculty. Many of the younger members of the staff are in the armed services and others are serving in various scientific organizations, perfecting the needs of the fighting units, and as a result in many instances we have only skeleton departments here at the college.

Up to this time we have successfully carried on the activities of the college but not without difficulties. The diversity of the faculty and the cooperative attitude is worthy of comment. The absence of upper-classmen and the predominance of freshmen brought about problems in student discipline which have been partly overcome by the helpfulness of the veterans who have returned to school.

The college is preparing to offer graduate, refresher, short, special, and regular courses of interest to returning veterans. Since more than four thousand men have left college to enter the armed services, it is inevitable that the college facilities will be crowded after hostilities cease in the Pacific. It would be well if those discharged during the next few months would come on to college before the rush begins.

Several graduates, especially those leaving college for the armed services, have indicated a desire to return to Clemson, possibly for a year, to get back into the swing of their chosen work.

Returning veterans are not required to drill and meet military formations. They wear the uniform which represents a material saving and indirectly keeps the student appearance neat and uniform on the campus. The veterans are required to abide by other regulations of the college and this proves an example for the sixteen and seventeen year olds.

Thus far the payment of the student's college expenses by the government and the allowance of fifty dollars per month for room and board, seventy-five if the student is married, have served the need of the students. It is our hope that all married veterans will be privileged to live on the campus. We are now making efforts to secure housing facilities for them.

I assure you of our interest and willingness to be of service to all former Clemson men—whether you wish to return to college or secure employment. R. F. Poole, President.

Editor's Report —

As this is the last issue of the Tiger for the current school year, the editor feels that a report of the year's work is appropriate. Future plans at present are very indefinite. We hope to publish several issues during the summer semester, but because of existing conditions no definite plans can be made.

The editor feels that as a whole this has been a most successful year as far as the Tiger is concerned. Though confronted with wartime conditions, we have managed to publish thirteen issues, as compared with ten last year. During this time, the faculty advisor and three boys have been editors.

The staff has had a very fine spirit of cooperation all year. The editor wishes to pay tribute to those of the staff who have had to leave before the end of the year and also to those who are graduating or leaving to join the armed forces at the end of this semester. These men are: Wylie Hogue, assistant editor; C. D. Barker, sports editor; R. H. Young, feature editor; A. T. Adams, columnist; M. R. Tilson, student news editor; Gordon Goodale, circulation manager; B. B. Smith, photographer; R. E. Hiller, assistant photographer; J. E. Beatty, circulation staff; H. B. Curtis, and R. B. Pursley, reporters; and W. H. D. McGregor, circulation staff.

The circulation of the Tiger this year reached 5200. Of this number 4,000 copies went to former Clemson men now in service. 2500 copies of each issue were sent overseas. Four out of every five Clemson men now in service have been sent the Tiger each issue. It has taken quite a while to build up this mailing list and we want to keep it as up to date as possible. We realize that with the end of the war in Europe many men will be moved. We want to urge each man to keep us informed as to his change of address in order that when publication is resumed he can get the Tiger.

To Prof. John Lane, our Faculty Advisor, we wish to convey our deepest thanks. Without his interest, cooperation, and work, publication this year would have been impossible. He has worried with us, and rejoiced at times with us. In addition to advising us and listening to our many troubles, he has each issue written the People column and had compiled the So They Say column, and also written other stories.

We also wish to express thanks to all those who have cooperated with the staff. We want to thank the Registrar and those of his office for their help in getting information about former cadets.

To the personnel in the business manager's office goes our gratitude for keeping our records and accounts, paying our bills, and aiding us in other ways.

Professor Goodale has spent many hours keeping our mailing list as up to date as possible and has taken over the job of sending out the Tigers each issue. He has our thanks and also the thanks of those who have been receiving the Tiger. To Mrs. Goodale, who has aided him every issue, and to other ladies of the campus who have been kind enough to help address Tigers go our thanks.

We wish to thank the Clemson News Bureau, the Alumni office, the President's office, and all the other offices and personnel of the college who have aided us in any way.

Perhaps the reason we have carried on in face of difficulties was the knowledge that we were keeping in touch with over 4000 Clemson men in uniform. That knowledge has made our task a pleasant one.

PEOPLE

Captain John D. Sharpe, Jr., Ag '41, of Sandy Springs, Ga., has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action near Nakhaleb, at Leyte, Philippine Islands.

Captain Sharpe has since been wounded in action and awarded the Purple Heart. He is at present in a hospital recovering from his wounds.

Capt. Sharpe entered the army in March, 1942 and shipped overseas in March, 1944. His wife is making her home at Clemson and is employed by the Extension Department. While at Clemson, Capt. Sharpe was a member of Alpha Zeta and Kappa Alpha Sigma.

I'll pass them to . . . one thing that doesn't get thrown away—news from Clemson. . . Regards to everybody. . . "

Talk Of The Town

By WYLIE HOGUE

The following cadets have received discharges since the last issue of the Tiger: W. E. Alford, and F. G. Edwards, Charleston; J. L. Gray, Pelzer; J. H. Harper, Greenville; J. D. Hogan, Columbia; D. L. Moyd, Ninety Six; H. H. Provence, Greenville; D. E. Roberts, Chester.

Item from J. H. Woodward. "News has just been received that Pvt. Thomas G. Northrup, '40, and his brother Lt. Walter B. Northrup, '39 recently met in France March 18. This was the first time they had seen each other in two and one-half years. Needless to say this meeting was a happy one. These Northrup boys are both loyal Clemson men and Clemson is proud of them."

Capt. William A. Greene, TE '40, of Orangeburg, has been liberated from a German prison camp, according to a cablegram received by his sister, Mrs. Bill Dillard, of Anderson. He had been reported missing since the battle of the bulge in December. He is the brother-in-law of Bill Dillard, coach at Anderson High and former star athlete at Clemson, and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Greene, of Orangeburg. He was with the 9th Army.

This article is not written as reciprocal action for any event. It is written with the hope that the existing situation between cadet corps and military department will be improved. This week, I am writing as any news reporter would write about The Talk of the Town and am giving the consensus of opinion of the entire cadet corps as suggested by the Senior class. This information and these suggestions for the improvement of the cadet corps, we, the Seniors, leave with the Commandant and certain of his stooges so that they might better understand some of the traditions of Clemson and the status of Clemson Cadets.

I believe that the cadets should be treated as possible future officers should be treated and allowed to use initiative on every occasion possible. Cadets should not be treated as G. I.'s or as irresponsible and rowdy boys. They are college boys and pay for a good education which should include good military instruction and training by competent army officers who do not try to force this instruction and training upon a student. Cadets pay for janitor service and maintenance of grounds and buildings to a certain extent and should not be held entirely responsible for condition of the grounds and deterioration of the buildings. Cadet officers should be treated as such and not as a bunch of dunces whether they are or not. They should be instructed by the PMS&T in such a way that there is no misunderstanding between Cadet officers and military authorities. These instructions on drill, inspection, parades, and notices of changes in orders should be given out in time for their correct execution. It is deplorable that the D. B. could not be more efficient in this respect.

It is the duty of the Commandant and Staff to teach military at Clemson just as any department teaches its subjects. It is not the duty of the Commandant and Staff to predominate the cadets' lives. When we leave here we don't want to be finished products for the battlefronts. The armed forces' basic training and O. C. S.'s do this job. We think that officers assigned here should be products of R. O. T. C. in colleges and not just 90-day-wonders. It should be a prerequisite

The local cotillion club, with Dr. J. C. Green as president, had a delightful dance Friday night and invited dozens of campus people. Among those taking active part in the square dances that occurred with just the right frequency was Capt. Clinkscales and many other youngsters not often seen shaking the light fanatic. The ladies did the breaking, the Clemson orchestra furnished the music, and a feature of the evening was the dancing and calling of the square dance numbers by Haskell Adams, of LaFrance. Among the uniformed visitors were Lt. Col. R. M. (Bob) and Mrs. Jones, Maj. and Mrs. H. S. Tate and Capt. and Mrs. Geo. Dunkelberg. A number of cadets were present.

1st. Lt. Roy M. Davenport, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Davenport, of Greenville, has had the experience of serving temporarily as "Mayor of several German cities and towns". He has been head of more cities than any other officer except some from the military government. Lt. Davenport's father was the president of the Citizen's Lumber Company in Spartanburg for a number of years and was active in civic activities there before moving to Greenville.

Manuscripts have been submitted to Octavus Roy Cohen, sponsor of the local Honor English Fraternity for Writers. A letter from his secretary in New York states that the popular writer of fiction is in Cuba and will not be able to judge the material until possibly late in July. Ten students submitted samples of their work. The fraternity is now eleven years old. All members to date, approximately 80, have been selected by Dr. Cohen, Clemson alumnus. Two members were selected last year—L. M. Coleman, Jr., and Andrew Calhoun.

A proposal has been made to establish a fraternity to recognize cadets who have made a grade point ratio of 6.00 or over for two or more semesters. Deans and Directors have approved the proposal, and the Registrar lists the following students as eligible, when and if the fraternity is organized: Barnes, J. M. (4 EE), Collins, R. S. (2EE), Cothran, J. E. (2 Arch), Evans, J. W. (2 EE), Goodale, G. M. (4 Chem. & Ch. Eng.), Inabnit, W. D. (4 Chem.), McKinnon, R. K. (2 CE), Marshall, W. L. (4 Chem.), Owen, W. H. (2 Ch-Eng), Sartor, C. F. (3 Pre-Med), Theiling, L. E. (3 Chem), Touchberry, R. W. (4 AH). This information was furnished by Dean R. K. Eaton, Chairman, Student Organizations Committee. The members of his committee are as follows: Professors Brock, Collings, Freeman, Sheldon, Taylor, R., and Marshall.

Col. W. A. (Streak) Lawton, GS '37, former star athlete at Clemson and coach at Olympia High School of Columbia, before entering the armed forces, is home on thirty day furlough from Italy. Col. Lawton has a wonderful record as a soldier, and will be remembered as a star football player in the backfield for the Tigers when at Clemson.

Capt. Julian Dusenbury, Ag Ec '42, of Claussen, was mentioned by Ernie Pyle a few days before the latter's death. Ernie said that the Captain was a little yellow from taking aabrine and was easy-going with his men. "You could tell they liked him," Dusenbury's birthday was on April 1—the Easter Sunday they landed on Okinawa. He was 24 and had received a letter from his mother wishing him a happy birthday. The wish was granted to suit the Captain, for they went through the day without a single casualty.

Under the title, "Recipe for Hash Marks," the New York Times Magazine for April 29 carries the story of how Capt. J. C. Wilkins, former editor of the Tiger writes his now famous column for Stars and Stripes. His column appears in three editions: Liege, Paris, and London. Capt. Wilkins has served at the front as a combat correspondent where, as he expressed it: "The Krauts have nothing better to do than try to kill you." Soldier-contributors send in over 200 items a week; Wilkins gathers gags from every conceivable source and adapts them to his column and its readers. "Basically," says Capt. Wilkins, "all gags whether aimed at soldiers or civilians contain the same elements. I often take a home-front gag and give it a military dressing. For example, a clipping from a New York column read, 'He must be an aristocrat. He's got a cigarette cough.' I changed it to read: 'Overheard on Grosvenor Square: He must be a PX officer. He's got a cigarette cough.'"

A letter to Registrar G. E. Metz reveals that Lt. Earl Mazo is back with Stars and Stripes in London.

—that it's high time we stop talking about Hogue's "bald spot"; our boy really has a way with the women. What gets 'em—those diamonds?

—that Crow shouldn't have scratched his girl's name off the dance roster.

—it's my opinion that Crow thinks he's too good-looking to dance with anyone less than Betty Grable!—Family pride!

—that Tilson has been studying too hard lately. Examination worries are coming out in the form of more wrinkles!

—that breaking barracks is a wonderful sport. Just ask those who were caught last Friday.

—that he really feels honored over being asked to write "Oscar." See if you can find out who I am. By the way, you might look for me around the "Y"—I'm beginning swimming lessons now!

—that Pinson is up to his neck in a love affair with a girl right here in town. Where'd you find her, Marvin?

—that from the looks of the names on the roster, we'll certainly have some beautiful dames at the dance tomorrow night.

—that Cheek, Chestnut, and Harte must love these Clemson girls.

—that Marshall must rate, too. "Western Union" is the password around him!

—that Gee and Godfrey have asked him to let everybody know that they're the casanovas at Clemson. Let's vote on it, boys!

—that he's heard a lot about C. W. Brown's frequent trips to Anderson. What's over there?

—that he'd like to know how

Capt. J. Wilkinson, GS '38, had a varied experience in the field of journalism before entering the armed forces. He was editor of the Seneca Journal, editor, adman, reporter and what-have-you of a paper in Greenwood (not the Index Journal); he was with the famous Melvin Purvis (FBI) in a newspaper venture in Florence, and when the Jap attack was made on Pearl Harbor, he was with Norfolk Newspapers, Inc., publishers of the Virginia-Pilot and Ledger-Dispatch. At Clemson he was a member of Gamma Alpha Mu, Honor English fraternity for writers, sponsored by Octavus Roy Cohen at Clemson. Right now, he edits the Stars and Stripes, commands a gang of ram-bunctious newsmen, and writes his daily column on the side.

Capt. George Clifton Salvo, Hort. '39, of Charleston, is responsible for an interesting story going the rounds in the Pacific. A Yankee tower officer had never heard Salvo pronounce his "a" like the "e" in pebble; so when Capt. Salvo requested landing instructions for "et plens" the tower officer yelled: "Sound the alert; there's a Jap in the traffic pattern!" Capt. Salvo wears the Air —that Bob Touchberry makes a tractor run like a jeep!

—that he's looking forward to seeing O. B. Riley's fascinating lady again.

—the Honorary Cadet Colonel is a neat trick, too. We love to salute you, Martha!

Maj. Allen W. Sanders, Chem Eng '40, of Savannah, Ga., has received the Bronze Star for heroic achievement with a battalion in the 63rd (Blood and Fire) division in Germany. Maj. Sanders took a convoy of vital supplies through enemy gunfire, enemy mines, directed the construction of bridge over anti-tank ditch and delivered the supplies. He later directed evacuation of wounded on his return trip. He has been with the 63rd since June 15, '43, and has been overseas since last December.

Li. J. H. Garroux, ME '41-'43, of Greenville, paid the campus a visit Tuesday and chatted about his job transporting planes. He has been in Louisiana and Texas; he was expecting to be sent overseas very soon. Had seen very few Clemson men.

WHO DO YOU THINK "OSCAR" IS?

E. J. Bedenbaugh, 1, Prosperity. It must be Buck Beatty.

R. W. Kay, 1, Easley. A. T. Adams is "Oscar."

B. J. Perry, 1, Ridgeland. I haven't the slightest idea.

T. A. Watson, 1, Gresham. Either Goodale or Riley.

L. E. Smith, 1, Mullins. Riley!

M. C. Lynn, 1, Lancaster. Either Adams or Young.

B. E. McKissick, 1, Kingstree. Goodale had a lot to do with it, but Reese Young's the man.

J. L. Cartee, 3, Liberty. It's bound to be Goodale!

E. C. Nelson, 3, Columbia. Either Buck Beatty or O. B. Riley.

B. M. Faile, 2, Kershaw. Some foggy knocker!

J. M. Fowler, 1, Gaffney. O. B. Riley.

C. W. Brown, 1, Florence. Could be Goodale.

J. E. Stevens, 1, Spartanburg. Buck Beatty.

J. L. Creech, 1, Blackville. Goodale.

W. F. Howell, 1, Lancaster. Reese Young.

J. A. Font, 1, Puerto Rico. Goodale.

A. T. Perry, 4, Ridgeland. Either Goodale or Riley.

T. E. Hill, 3, Hartsville. None other than the one-and-only Gordon M. Goodale.

J. D. Sha-pe, 1, Dixiana. I think it's Goodale.

J. A. Brunetti, 3, Brooklyn, N. Y. Goodale.

T. D. McAlhany, 4, Anderson. O. B. Riley.

F. G. Boylston, 4, Barnwell. Riley.

E. F. Byars, 4, Rock Hill. Gordon Goodale had plenty to do with it, but O. B. Riley is Oscar. Regardless of who it is, he's gonna catch h---.

R. H. Herndon, 1, Barnwell. O. B. Riley.

T. E. Howell, 2, Greenville. Reese Young.

C. L. Morris, 2, Olar. It's Riley, but he's getting plenty of information from other seniors.

L. G. Adams, 2, Seneca. O. B. Riley.

D. A. Kennerly, 2, Cordova. Gordon Goodale.

R. M. Hanckel, 1, Charleston. John Barnes.

Louis Chestnut, 1, Columbia. Reese Young.

T. H. Langford, 1, Furman. O. B. Riley.

T. C. Jackson, 1, Anderson. Gordon Goodale.

W. L. Lee, 1, Anderson. Gordon Goodale.

C. C. Corley, 1, Anderson. Goodale.

P. J. Leach, 1, Abbeville. Goodale.

J. C. Martin, 1, Orangeburg. Goodale.

R. R. Quarles, 1, Abbeville. Reese Young.

W. N. DeVore, 2, Ninety Six. O. B. Riley.

O. F. Easler, 2, Buck Beatty.

W. H. Smartt, 1, McMinville. Tenn. Buck Beatty.

A. J. Stathakis, 2, Chester. Frier-son.

J. E. Beatty, 4, Baltimore, Md. Naturally, it's my old lady.

FAREWELL

This was to be the last "Trailing The Tiger" that this columnist expected to write for quite some time, and it so happens that we won't write this one, except as an introduction to our guest writer.

Coach Frank Howard has written a guest column this time that is of interest to Clemson men everywhere. Before we turn the column over to him we wish to thank our readers for bearing with us. We've enjoyed it, but it's Anchors Aweigh for us, so—so long.

COACH HOWARD WRITES

I understand that this will be the last issue of the Tiger for this school year. I feel sure that all our Alumni and Iptay members have enjoyed getting this paper. As you know, the Athletic Department sends the Tiger to all paid-up Iptay members.

So far this year I have not received as many 1945 dues as I must have to support the program that I am planning for next year. For your information, I am listing below Iptay dues that I have received since 1940:

1940	Approximately	1700
1941	Approximately	1600
1942	Approximately	1200
1943	Approximately	300
1944	Approximately	900
1945	(to date)	310

About half of these 1945 members are Clemson men overseas and these fellows range in rank from brigadier General to Private.

I fully realize that we have not had very good football teams the past three years as we lost seventeen boys to the armed forces before we started football practice in 1942. The whole 1943 team was freshmen and practically all of these boys were in the army before 1944. I thought our team played about as well as they were capable of playing in 1944 and with just a little more football ability we could have had a very successful season. As you probably know, we won games last year from P. C., N. C. State, South Carolina, and V. M. I., while losing to Georgia-Tech and Tennessee, both of which played in Bowl games, and Wake Forest, Georgia, and Tulane. I do not doubt that last year's schedule was one of the hardest ever attempted by a Clemson team. Georgia-Tech, Tulane, and South Carolina all three had a good many navy trainees on their teams and during these times this naturally gives them a good advantage over an all-civilian team.

I don't know exactly what kind of team to expect in 1945. Naturally we are hoping for the best and will do everything we possibly can to give our Iptay members and Clemson Alumni as good a team as we can possibly get together during these times. I really believe that our team will be very much like the one we had last season.

Seven letter men returned from the 1944 team. They are: Jenkins, Davis, Cagle, Freeman, Rogers, Cumble, and Poe. There is also a possibility that we might have four or five more boys from our last year's squad who did not make letters last season. The other members of the 1944 team are now in some branch of the service and I feel sure that the training they received on the football field last year will be very beneficial to them. In addition to the letter-men returning from last year's team, I have also been fortunate in lining up around thirty pretty good high school players. I would like to call your attention to three boys in the latter group who made the All-Southern prep school squad and who have promised to be here when we start football practice this July 23rd. These boys are: Carol Cox, a back from Camden, South Carolina; Bobby Gage, a back from Anderson, South Carolina; and Sam Butz, an end from Jacksonville, Florida. I now have around one hundred boys who are in the army who, I hope, will eventually come back to school here and play football for us. Nothing would please me better than to have some of these boys with us next year.

I have arranged the following schedule for 1945:

September 22—Presbyterian in Clemson
September 29—Georgia in Athens
October 6—North Carolina State
October 13—Open
October 25—South Carolina in Columbia
November 2—Miami University in Miami
November 10—V. P. I. in Clemson
November 17—Tulane in New Orleans
November 24—Georgia-Tech in Atlanta
December 1—Wake Forest in Clemson

You will notice that we have an open date October 13th. I am hoping to fill this sometime in the near future.

I surely will appreciate it if all Clemson men who can possibly afford it, will become members of Iptay. The money derived from Iptay provides help for athletes who want to come to school at Clemson. If it were not for Iptay, it would be impossible for us to have any kind of athletics as practically all schools are now helping boys who play on their teams. We must do the same thing so please send me that check right away.

PEOPLE

Of interest to the more than 5000 Clemson men in service is the story of how their Commander-in-Chief, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, went alone to a sun-swept hilltop at Warm Springs, Ga., "for silent meditation with his God" two days before he died. At the top of Pine mountain, overlooking the president's favorite project, the Warm Springs Infantile Paralysis foundation, he asked his four companions to leave him alone and in the car and to return when he signaled by blowing the horn. For two hours the President sat there "gathering spiritual strength for the continuing trials of war" and the intricate problems of formulating a successful peace.

Lt. Col. Clarence K. Hollingsworth, Voc Ag Ed '41, of Troy, who was a prisoner of the Germans for a short time until liberated by his own men, was promoted to his present rank upon release, according to a message received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hollingsworth. Lt. Col. Hollingsworth has the Purple Heart, Oak Leaf cluster, the Bronze Star, the Silver Star, and the Croix de Guerre. His wife, the former Miss Vivian McDowell, is making her home with her family at Innman. At Clemson Lt. Hollingsworth was a marksman, members Alpha Tau Alpha, and a first lieutenant.

Capt. Mitchell F. Simmons writes that he received the March 2 copy of the 1945 Tiger and had not received one for a long time. Though publication had been discontinued. Four years after graduation, Capt. Simmons knew

Lt. Wade Jordan Made Captain At Jackson

Captain Wade H. Jordan, Ag. Ed., '33, of Conway, has been promoted to this rank from that of First Lieut. He is assigned to Fort Jackson as officer in charge of the branch Reclamation Center.

He entered active duty in March, 1942, and was stationed at the Philadelphia Quartermasters depot, coming to Fort Jackson from that station.

While at Clemson, he was a member of the Tiger Brotherhood and the Freshman and Sophomore Y Council.

very few men mentioned. Says that during 30 of the past 48 months he has inhabited 20 to 30 South, Southwest, and Central Pacific islands which in '41 he had never heard of. His latest is Okinawa; went ashore Easter Sunday with the Marines. Says he has seen Fred Hobson ('43) with engineers. Hobson mentioned seeing Capt. Boyce Burley and a number of other Clemson men of '41. Said that Capt. Julian Dusenbury is in his division, and Maj. Crawford Lawton is on the island with the 6th Marine Division.

Major C. R. Hinson, Ag. Ed. '36 and assistant Clemson coach before his entry into the armed forces, came by the campus yesterday for a brief visit.

Major Hinson is home from Italy where he recently participated in the final allied breakthrough.

He served as a liaison officer between infantry and heavy tank forces.

Minor Stanley Williamson and Joe Kinard were among recent Clemson men whom he saw while in Italy, he said.

Tiger's '44-'45 Sports Review

Clemson's athletic teams fared moderately in the 1944-45 season. As an all-civilian team against teams which on several occasions were using Navy trainees, the teams did about as well as might be expected.

The football team looked great in an impressive 34-0 win over Presbyterian, but lost the lustre when the Navy team of Georgia Tech rolled up the score. The gridders came back to take N. C. State, 13-7. The Wake Forest and Tennessee teams upset the Tigers, but Clemson made up for it by defeating South Carolina's V-12 team, V. M. I. bowed to the Tigers as the team went wild to roll up a 59-12. Tulane and Georgia both scored victories over Clemson to end the season.

Several players won post-season honors for their outstanding play during the season. Six Tigers made the first all-state team: Jenkins, Tinsley, Phillips, Prince, Rogers, and Salisbury; two, Freeman, and Cumble, made the second team and others made the reserve squad. Alton Cumble, Clemson's star blocking back, received the Jacobs blocking trophy for South Carolina.

Sid Tinsley, Tiger tailback, was selected to play on the Southern team in the Blue-Grey game. He was also honorable mention for All-American. The basketball team did not have much better luck. The cagers lost more games than they won. They did manage to finish the Southern Conference schedule in sixth place, and were invited to play in the Conference Tournament.

Physical Ed came along to build the Cadet Corps as a whole up, and was successfully put across.

Intra-mural sports were of great interest to the cadets here. "B" Company won the football company, defeating the "K" Company. A. C. E. R's in the third play-off, 6-0. The "L" Company team won the basketball title from "A" Company.

The basketball team just about broke even in games played. They won four from Wofford, won two and lost two with Newberry, lost three to P. C., and won two and lost two with South Carolina.

Lt. Col. Lyles Sends Manual to Arch. Dept.

Lt. Col. W. G. Lyles, Arch. '34, has sent to the Department of Architecture a complete set of the AEF General Construction Manual, Drawings and Estimates.

This manual is in three large volumes and covers the standard specifications, general and detail drawings, estimates and schedule of accommodations for, camps of various kinds, hospitals, hutting, depots and special types of buildings as used in Headquarters European Theater of Operations, U. S. Army. The drawings are generally based on British hutting but include all types such as huts prefabricated in U. S., German, Swiss, and French huts. The drawings were made in England but the office has since been moved to Paris. Lt. Col. Lyles is in responsible charge of this work and each document bears his signature of approval as Chief, Design and Engineering Section.

He writes that he has built up a rather sizable force of architects and engineers, British, Civilian, Military, and French, and coordinating such a group causes some headaches and some amusing and interesting experiences. He has been cited for "ingenuity and skill of highest caliber" and has been awarded the Bronze Star. This Manual is a very detailed and informative document and can be seen in the Architectural Library.

He writes he has seen George Way, Arch. '36, who is a Major in the Mediterranean Theater, Louis Wolfe, Arch. '31, who is a Lt. Col. in responsible charge of organizing POW and civilian labor, and Harris Ford, Arch. '35 who was then a Captain in the African Theater.

T. V. Stallcup Is Now Navy Baseball Coach

Thomas V. Stallcup, Tex. '41-'42, of Honea Path, motor machinist's mate, third class, USNR, who played ball with the Boston Red Sox before enlisting in the Navy in 1942, is directing from a professional aspect, the baseball activities aboard a destroyer escort of the Atlantic Fleet.

A team that has just begun its spring training under Stallcup's leadership is reported to be the champion among the vessels of the escort division with which Stallcup's ship operates. Either foreign or U. S. ports between cruises, provide opportunities for games for the ball team which has defeated a number of shore station nines and teams from other ships.

Stallcup wears the American and European-African-Middle Eastern Theatre ribbons and the Presidential Citation.

This Year's Baseball Team

B. S. Coleman Wins Silver Star

Cpl. Broadus S. Coleman, Ag. '40-'41, of Fountain Inn, has been awarded the Silver Star for "gallantry in action". The citation reads as follows: Cpl. Coleman, Med. Det. of the 394th Infantry is presented the Silver Star medal for gallantry in action against the enemy on the 16th and 17th of December, 1944 in Germany. After supervising the evacuation of casualties during the day, Cpl. Coleman at dusk searched the area for other wounded soldiers. After treating him and placing him in a covered position, Cpl. Coleman crawled in the darkness 150 yards to the road and proceeded through 2,000 yards of enemy territory strongly patrolled by the enemy to get assistance to evacuate the casualty. He then led a litter squad to the wounded man and evacuated him. Cpl. Coleman's courage and faithfulness to duty reflect credit upon himself and the military service. He entered military service from South Carolina.

He entered the Army in 1942 and was attached to a medical unit in the 99th Infantry division, for training at Camp Van Dorn, Miss., and Camp Maxey, Texas. He went overseas in the fall of 1944, his division, as part of the First Army, arriving in Germany in time to enter the fight for the "Belgian Bulge".

Lt. Curtis Graham In N. C. Hospital

First Lt. Curtis C. Graham, Dairying '42, of Mt. Ulla, N. C., veteran of the battles for France and Germany, has been admitted to the Moore General Hospital in Swannanoa, N. C., for treatment.

Lt. Graham served in the European Theater with the 80th Division. In December, 1944 he was awarded the Bronze Star and in January, 1945 received the Purple Heart and the Oak Leaf Cluster for wounds suffered in combat, he was also awarded the Combat Infantry Badge for meritorious service in action.

While at Clemson he was a member of the Block "C" and Dairy Clubs and was a member of the Basketball and Track Teams.

"Y" Cabinets Meet At Columbia College

Last weekend, representatives from the Y. M. or Y. W. C. A. Cabinets of Columbia College, Carolina and Clemson met at Columbia College to discuss present problems of their organizations, and also to make plans for the 1945 fall Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. Retreat which will be held at Camp Long, near Aiken next October.

The meetings were planned and conducted chiefly by Mr. Holtzendorf.

Representing the Clemson "Y" at the meeting were J. O. Murray, W. S. Resonover, Bob Touchberry, H. F. Frierson, J. W. Evans, Jr., and Mr. "Holtzy".

Captured Clemson Man Talks Nazi Capt. Into Giving Up Whole Co.

A college course in German saved the lives of an untold number of American soldiers, according to a letter to his parents from Lieut. Joe M. Quattlebaum, Chem. Eng., '43, of Columbia.

Lt. Quattlebaum was working with a spearhead infantry attack, and meeting no opposition, he progressed deeper into German territory until he was far ahead of the rest of the Doughboys. Suddenly he and his men were ambushed by German soldiers and to save the lives of himself and his men, he gave up. They were stripped of everything except their wallets and marched to a Gestapo Headquarters for questioning. There they were treated roughly, and their immediate fate seemed very doubtful. They were marched around crooked, cobble stone streets, through dark alleys and then three miles up a steep mountain trail.

The prisoners ended up in an orderly room where they spent the night on the bare floor without blankets. The next morning the men noticed a great exodus of troops from the village, and finally by afternoon there was only one company of German troops left to guard the city.

Lt. Quattlebaum had been feeling out the men and officers and learned that the German soldier is tired of fighting and only the high officers and the SS Troops still wanted to make the last ditch-stands. Using his scant knowledge of German that he learned in college, he struck up a conversation with the German captain in charge of the remaining company telling him how well the German prisoners were being treated. When he thought the time was ripe, he mentioned how useless it was to fight and how little blood would be shed if the Captain would recall his men and surrender the town.

After a little contemplation, the captain decided to surrender the town and the Germans were all disarmed and lined up to wait before the first G. I. vehicles rolled into view.

Lt. Quattlebaum turned the prisoners over to the American patrol, gathered his men together, and started back to join his outfit. When they finally pointed their own company, a very happy reunion occurred.

"Being a prisoner is perhaps safer than fighting," says Lt. Quattlebaum, "but I'll take the fighting anyway!"

Capt. T. C. Wright Serving With Chinese

Captain Thomas C. Wright, Voc. Ag. Ed., '42, of Ward, who is serving as liaison officer with a U. S. combat section of the Chinese Combat Command in South Central China, has been presented with the Bronze Star for meritorious service by Maj. General R. B. McClure, commanding officer of the CCC.

While at Clemson he was a member of the Block "C" Club, and Alpha Tau Alpha.

Talk Of The Town

for officers assigned here to have had previous experiences in working with boys of college age. It is a custom here to correct mistakes of cadets and discipline them by pointing out their mistakes to them face to face and on the spot and to tell them whether or not they are being "busted" or reported rather than snooping around them and using a daily bulletin as a bludgeon to hide the lack of intestinal fortitude. Neither do we expect others below us in rank to do anything that we wouldn't do or haven't done ourselves.

We cannot believe or respect leadership that makes promises and does not stick to it—namely: the promise of no military after Big Inspection, the promise of the use of a room for officers' Club (which has been locked by M. S. dept. for a week), promise to the non-coms for a similar club, promise of financial aid to C. D. A. for the last dance, and promise of other policies which have never been heard from. We want and we will get officers who will back us rather than constantly criticize our every action.

We will get officers who are interested in the advancement of the college and cadet corps and not the officers, themselves. It has been proved that if the cadets do not control themselves more efficiently, others will discipline them. However, cadet officers and non-coms are to govern the cadets and should be allowed to interpret timely orders as they think the orders fit the situation and actions and feeling of the cadets.

Cadet officers or non-coms should not be yelled at or called down in front of their commands. This should be done in private at appropriate briefings and should be done discreetly with tact and manner becoming an army officer. We are not puppets to be jerked about on strings tied to anyone's tail. For the most part we are volunteers and it should be remembered that our time spent on military can be used for other things if we choose not to take part in military our Junior and Senior years, during war when advanced R. O. T. C. is not given. It is "our" suggestion that the Military department should spend more time learning of our problems and advising us in detail rather than the time spent on keeping track on our short-comings and mistakes.

On May 8, the Seniors carried off some practical jokes and pranks which is traditionary at Clemson as a last fling at boyhood. This year, they were clean pranks and no harm to property or personnel was reported by the college building and grounds committee. The Commandant accused the entire Senior class of destruction of college property, endangering lives, vandalism, hoodlumry, shenaniganism, and threatened to "ship" certain Seniors which is not his authority. He should know his authority. It is petty to make all suffer for actions of a few. It is small to hold grudges because a person won't kiss your foot as it is some officers' habit of doing.

Clemson strives to make men out of boys and boys would not be boys if they didn't let off a little steam with a little devilment and horseplay, once in a while. When Clemson cadets leave here they are men. That statement was proven in World War I and is being proven in World War II by the records of Clemson men in their defense of the Nation.

In war time, we do not have the cadet leadership that we have in normal times, but present conditions would improve inconceivably if the Commandant and Staff would make friends with the cadet corps instead of holding themselves aloof and unapproachable and remembering that they were once boys themselves.

Even though an officer is superior, he can still be a friend or at least be friendly. Military courtesy is our first lesson in M. S. and it would seem that if a certain officer would remember that military courtesy is nothing more than common everyday recognition to his fellow man—superior and subordinate. We, at Clemson, believe in courtesy and hospitality to all that are worthy of it. Some few veterans (ex-officers and enlisted men) deserve more courtesy and respect than a lot of officers we know. While we are on the subject of behavior... certain officers on the Commandant's Staff persist in using vile language, telling dirty jokes, etc., around us and for our benefit. I believe most of us are accustomed to better language by our superiors (parents, teachers, instructors). We want more thoughtful officers who will teach us to use our heads, too, besides something to hang a G. I. cap on.

We, the Senior Class, sincerely hope that this dissertation upon the Military department will not bring punishment or reciprocal action upon the cadet corps in any way. The only way that we would like to see any action taken after we leave is to see a decided improvement in the Military department or some change made.

To cadets we leave behind we say—God bless you—and good luck—keep the school rolling—and to all those leaving school for the service, we say—good hunting!

Prof. Lee Keeps Record Of Grads In Scrap Book

Rudolph E., "Pop," Lee was a student at the Citadel when Clemson was first opened to students. Upon finding that Clemson was giving the courses he wanted, Mr. Lee arrived at Clemson; he helped organize the first group into companies and became company commander. C. Company, under Mr. Lee, won the competitive drill and was presented a U. S. flag which became the first colors for the corps. This same flag is now in the College Museum. Mr. Lee later became Senior Cadet Officer of the corps, graduating in engineering, with the first class December 16, 1896.

Mr. Lee was elected to the Clemson faculty upon graduation and taught mathematics, later transferring to the drawing department, of which he became head. In 1915, after graduate work at Cornell and Pennsylvania, he organized and founded the Architecture Department and became its head, which position he still holds. Under Mr. Lee's direction the department has grown from two students to a pre-war enrollment of nearly 100.

When he first became head of the department, Mr. Lee began a scrap book and now has an up-to-the-minute account of the graduates of his department, including their war activities. "Pop" receives many letters from his former students who are now scattered all over the world. We believe that a scrap book containing information about a man's activities while in school and after his graduation is indeed unique here at Clemson or at any other institution. These volumes can be seen in the Architecture Library.

Mr. Lee is a member of the American Institute of Architects, also the South Carolina Chapter of the Institute, the South Carolina Association of Architects, is a registered Architect in South Carolina, and at one time, of North Carolina, was one of the founders of the Civic Act League of Greenville and was its Vice President. He is now a member of South Carolina State's Board of Examiners of Architects.

The Lees, who reside in Greenville, have one daughter, Mrs. Louise Lee Page. Mrs. Page, whose husband, M/Sgt. Bill Page, is serving in the 387th Fighter Group somewhere in Germany, is making her home with her parents for the duration.

Albert D. Hutto Wins Silver Star

Cpl. Albert D. (Dick) Hutto, Voc. Ag. Ed., '41-'42, of Darlington and Columbia has won the Silver Star for extraordinary bravery during the German break-through into Belgium in December.

Corporal Hutto was one of three officers and seven enlisted men of the 501st Parachute Infantry, 101st Airborne Division to receive the award. He is a member of the medical detachment of the 501st regiment.

He jumped into Normandy on D-Day and was captured and held as a prisoner by the Germans for a short time. His major engagement was at Niemegean. In addition to the Silver Star he wears the Presidential unit citation with the oak leaf cluster and the European theater ribbon with three stars.

New Officers And Members To CDA

The three retiring members of the Central Dance Association, M. R. Tilson, President, J. E. Beatty, Business Manager, and G. M. Goodale, Placing Chairman recently elected W. C. McElreath, of Wadley, Ga., president for next year.

They also appointed C. J. Ballenger, of Tucca; E. F. Byars, of Rock Hill; and H. D. Richardson, of Orangeburg as the new Senior members. O. B. Riley of Sumter, remains as a Senior Member.

New Junior members appointed were H. S. Collins, of Ninety-Six; H. F. Frierson, of Union; M. J. Pinson, of Spartanburg; and A. J. Rigby, of Kingstree. Eddis Freeman, of Greenville is an old Junior member.

The C. D. A. has put on five dances this year, and it is believed that many improvements will be made under the guidance of McElreath.

Seaman Whitten Killed At Sea

Fireman Second Class Enoch Larry Whitten, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Whitten, of Clemson, was killed as a result of an accident on May 3, according to a notice received from the War Department.

Seaman Whitten was serving aboard a ship off the coast of Central America at the time he died as result of an electric shock.

Other details were not immediately available, the Navy Department said.

Mr. R. A. Whitten, father of the young seaman, has been in charge of the meat department in the college mess hall for twenty-five years.

Capt. Roy Cureton Free From Prison

Capt. Roy W. Cureton, Ag. Ec. '36, of Greenville, has been freed. A news dispatch by Bryan was the first notice that the Curetons had of their son's freedom.

While at Clemson he was a member of the Calhoun Literary Society and he attained the rank of captain.

Poland by the Russians and is now back in the United States. Capt. Cureton had first been reported as missing in action, and was later found to be in a prison camp in Poland where Wright Bryan was also interned.

Lt. Boissenault Is Reconnaissance Officer

First Lieut. Loyd H. Boissenault, M. E., '43, of Charleston, is a member of the Photo Reconnaissance Squadron that recently received the Presidential Citation "for extraordinary performance of duty in action against the enemy during the month of May 1944."

Lt. Boissenault is assigned to Col. James M. Smalley's 303rd Tactical Reconnaissance Group, First Airforce organization to operate from a base in Germany, where he is a squadron supply officer.

He entered the army in August, 1943. While at Clemson he was a member of the CDA and a member of the Canterbury Club.

Lt. R. H. Parks Is Injured In France

Lieut. Robert Hill Parks, Ind. Ed., '43, of Newberry, was wounded somewhere in France on the night of April 18th when the jeep in which he and two other soldiers were returning to camp got out of control of the driver and turned over.

Lieut. Parks, a paratrooper, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G.

ices in a body as did the boys and girls of the local grammar and high schools.

With joyful hearts and yet fully mindful of the thousands of soldiers who yet man the battlefields of the Pacific, the congregation lifted their voices to the strains of "America the Beautiful" to begin the service. Rev. Harold Cole offered a prayer of thanksgiving which was followed by Scripture reading by Rev. E. Wannamaker Hardin. Rev. John A. Pinckney then offered a prayer for the safety of our men over there.

Dr. D. W. Daniel, choosing as his theme "Let Us Give Thanks" spoke briefly to the gathering.

"Yesterday there were more hearts sunk in sadness than the world had ever before known," Dr. Daniel said, "and today there are more hearts filled with gladness than the world has ever known."

Rev. S. J. L. Crouch offered a prayer "For peace and safe return" following the singing of "America" and Father C. E. Lufrio pronounced the benediction.

The service came to a close as the audience sang the National Anthem.

Pictured above is the Senior Council at one of its meetings. The members of this council are elected by the members of the Senior Class for their character, leadership ability, and willingness to govern and discipline the student body.

The purpose of the Senior Council is to serve the cadet corps by handling disciplinary cases. It is the link between the president of the college and the student body and is responsible only to the president.

Alumni Secretary Seeks Information Of Clemson Men

Clemson College has approximately six thousand former students in the Armed Forces of the Country. Seventy-five percent of these, or more, are officers, ranging in rank from Major General on down. To date 275 are known to have paid the supreme sacrifice. Fifty-nine are reported as missing in action. More than sixty have been reported as prisoners of war, but now that the hostilities have ceased in Europe, quite a large percentage of these are liberated.

The Alumni office is endeavoring to bring its files up to date on all of the above mentioned men and it requests that every one who reads this, if he is in service, please send to the office at Clemson, P. O. Box 129, his present status and address. If you are not in the service, but know the present status and address of any Clemson man in the service, please send it in to the office. Any information about any of our boys in the service will be greatly appreciated, and will be valuable information for the institution.

Visitors Board Inspects College

The Board of Visitors arrived on the campus Wednesday, May 2, for a three day visit and stayed in the Trustee House.

Members of this board are elected by the trustees of the College and their job is to inspect the conduct of the student body and faculty, to inspect the buildings, grounds, facilities, and to make a report to the Board of Trustees in reference to the operation this educational institution according to the by laws and rules set forth by the trustees.

The hold-over member from the Board of Visitors of 1944 was Mr. H. M. Pace of Charleston. Other members for this year were: E. Coke Bridges of Heath Springs; Miller C. Foster of Spartanburg; George A. Hanvey, Jr. of Abbeville; Hugh O. Hanna of Hampton; Charlie Peace of Greenville; John J. Snow of Henry; Otis Williamson of Kingstree; David S. White of McBee; and E. P. Gullege of Calhoun.

The itinerary for this group of professional men included a survey of all departments of the school, the President's and other administrative offices, the athletic field, stadium, water plant, mess hall, barracks, hospital, Y. M. C. A., agricultural facilities, and library. Chapel exercises were held Thursday in honor of their visit and a Retreat Parade was held for them Thursday afternoon, May 3.

Cotton Classing Course To Begin Here June 4

This year, for the first time in five years, the School of Textiles is offering a short course in cotton classing. The course will start on June 4 and last through June 30.

It is to be conducted by Mr. Ben V. Person, a cotton specialist, who is connected with the Cotton and Fibre Branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The course is to be offered to anyone interested in the buying and selling of cotton. Many cotton buyers from textile mills, many local buyers, and buyers from all over the South are expected to take the course.

Regular college students may take this course as part of their regular summer school work and receive regular laboratory credit (Y. M. 28—2/3 cr.).

Registration day for the course will be June 4.

High Awards To Mrs. Richardson For Husband

Presentation of three of the highest Air Corps awards ever given by the Greenville Army Air Base was made Sunday May 6, by Col. Oliver H. Stout, commanding officer of the base, to Mrs. Arden T. Richardson, of Anderson, on behalf of her husband, Major J. H. Richardson, listed by the War Department as "missing in action."

Mrs. Richardson received the Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross, and Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters at 4 p. m. Sunday, in the presence of members of the family and many friends who had assembled for the occasion at her residence, 120 Prevost Street.

The citation highly commended Maj. Richardson for his courage and skill in leading a formation calmly and accurately against an important German target in February, 1944, even though it had been fully alerted by previous bomber squadrons, which had been forced to turn back before reaching its objective.

In the heroic action, Major Richardson became separated from his formation and though he destroyed two enemy fighters and damaged others, his plane did not return because it had become subjected to concentrated anti-aircraft fire and enemy fighters.

Maj. Richardson graduated from Clemson in 1941, majoring in civil engineering. While he was a football player, member of ASCE, and Alpha Chi Psi.

Calvin B. Griffin Killed In Action

Lieut. Calvin B. Griffin, T. C., '40-'42, of Belton, was killed in action on April 16 somewhere in Germany.

He entered the service in 1944 and received his commission at Fort Benning and was later stationed at Fort Meade from which place he sailed overseas.

Ownership Makes A Difference . . .

Eighty-five million American citizens are stock holders in AMERICA UNLIMITED. 87% of those who have bought bonds have kept them. It seems trite to say that you who have bought bonds are credited with helping to keep the National Economy on an even keel. We own the U. S. A. It's worth working for and fighting for!

The Seventh War Loan is a great challenge. Seven billion dollars is the individual quota. Four billion in "E" bonds.

South Carolina and Clemson and most every community have met their quota. It is almost unbelievable that $387,000.00 worth of bonds were sold at the Clemson Bank and Post Office in 1944. Neighboring communities and business concerns helped some as did the military personnel stationed here.

We, as co-owners of AMERICA UNLIMITED, wish to shake hands with millions of our fellow men who have given their lives, limbs and property for the preservation of free loving people. Many of you who have done so much, have bought more bonds proportionally than some civilians who could well have afforded to purchase more.

The school children of Columbia bought and helped to sell 600,000 dollars in bonds last year. You help yourselves, your government, men in the armed forces and make possible the continuation of AMERICA UNLIMITED when you buy bonds.

NOTICE — May we take this opportunity to remind Clemson graduates, former students and relatives and friends of former Clemson men to send your correct address to Box 312, Clemson, S. C., so that the "Y" News Letter will be sent to the correct address.

Thank you again — P. B. H.
